

Question for oral answer O-0000/2024

to the Council

Rule 142

Antonio Decaro

on behalf of the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Food Safety

Lídia Pereira

on behalf of the PPE Group

Javi López

on behalf of the S&D Group

Emma Wiesner

on behalf of the Renew Group

Lena Schilling

on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Nikolas Farantouris

on behalf of The Left Group

Subject: 2024 UN Climate Change Conference in Baku, Azerbaijan (COP29)

In order to ensure a COP29 outcome that significantly advances the agenda in terms of mitigation, adaptation, finance and loss and damage, the EU must enhance its climate diplomacy and lead by example. What action is the Council taking to ensure that the COP29 Climate Change Conference in Baku concludes with significant progress in relation to:

- setting the new collective quantified goal (NCQG) on climate finance;
- building resilience and adaptation, including advancing on the global goal on adaptation (GCA) and developing national adaptation plans (NAPs) by the end of 2025;
- raising the collective ambition in nationally determined contributions (NDCs) in line with the goals of the Paris Agreement and the outcome of the Global Stocktake;
- robust rules for cooperative mechanisms under Article 6 of the Paris Agreement?

Submitted: 00.0.2024