

Question for written answer to the Commission

Rule 144

Per Clausen (The Left), Leila Chaibi (The Left)

Subject: Implementation of the Platform Workers' Directive

Platform workers in Europe are worried about Member States carrying out late and possibly insufficient implementations of the Platform Workers' Directive (PWD).

There are well-founded fears that the slow implementation of the directive has already contributed to job-losses among platform workers in Member States, including in Austria, as highlighted by the European Transport Workers Federation. [1]

In light of the serious situation, can the European Commission kindly:

- 1 Provide an overview of the progress of implementation of the PWD in each of the Member States
- 2 Let us know how the European Commission will proactively contact the Member States, and remind them of the need of a speedy and thorough implementation of the PWD?
- 3 Inform about any further initiatives it has under consideration, which could improve the working and employment conditions of the EU's millions of platform workers?
